In the last newsletter I published the extended version of the school’s vision statement and the three core principles that guide our practice. “The Canterbury Public School community celebrates diversity and strives for excellence, equity and participation to ensure the development of the whole child. The learning environment is rich with quality learning experiences and opportunities for students to make meaningful connections with others and the world around them.”

1) We create a positive and successful learning environment.
2) We support and respect each other.
3) We are life-long learners.

Over the past few weeks there have been many examples of this in action. Teachers supporting each other and students.

All classroom and specialist teachers have met to ‘hand over’ student data and pertinent information from 2014 learning programs. This process is essential in supporting the continuity of student achievement and growth. Teachers stayed back on several afternoons to make appointments with each other to share this valuable information.

Teachers developing quality learning experiences.

all classroom teachers and specialist staff participated in planning days where they collaboratively developed units of work using a process called ‘Backward Mapping’. This is the process of beginning with the ‘end in mind’. In the words of Stephen Covey (Seven Habits of Highly Effective People) “To begin with the end in mind means to start with a clear understanding of your destination. It means to know where you’re going so that you better understand where you are now so that the steps you take are always in the right direction.”

When developing units of work, teachers ask themselves the following questions—What do we want the students to learn? Why does this learning matter? How will they demonstrate their learning? How well do we expect them to do it?

Community members supporting quality learning and a culture of life-long learning.

Our school and teachers are very fortunate to have the opportunity to work with esteemed educator Rhonda Jenkins (grandmother to Hal 3/4K and Alfie 1/2R). Rhonda’s illustrious professional life includes work as a Senior Publisher, Literacy Consultant, Managing Director, Principal Education Officer for the Department of Education, Executive Director and most recently, before volunteering her time at CPS, was an Associate Principal of a school in New York City. We feel deeply privileged to have Rhonda working with us at the elbow to; coach members of staff—experienced teachers/leaders and those new to the profession, support the Stage 3 Learning Lab project, and to be a critical friend in the school’s execution of the strategic plan. Welcome to the team Rhonda!

Parents, students and teachers supporting and respecting each other in pursuit of optimal learning outcomes.

Next week, we begin Goal Setting Interviews. This is an opportunity for students, teachers and families to work together and determine SMART goals (specific, measureable, achievable, realistic and timely) for students’ learning. Students with the guidance and support of their teachers and families will work to achieve their goals. Once they are achieved, the idea is that new goals are determined. The achievement of personal and academic goals are reported on in the semester 1 report which goes home towards the end of term 2 and at parent teacher interviews at the beginning of term 3. Please remember that parents and caregivers may make an appointment at any time of the year to speak with their child’s teacher/s. Goal setting interviews are also the time when we review specific health plans (anaphylaxis, asthma and other health conditions) and update contact details and important information on our data base. If you think you’ll require an appointment time longer than 15 minutes, please inform your child’s teacher.
Quality learning experiences and opportunities for students to make meaningful connections with others and the world around them.

Last Friday it was my privilege last Friday to accompany nine Stage 3 students (Findhy, Adrijana, Erykar, Eda, Andrew, Sophia, Rhys, Hannah and Liv) to a recoding studio in Artarmon to be part of a promotional video to promote Canterbury Hurston Park RSL’s new in-house electricity generator. Everyone had their makeup done and we shared the studio with Fatty Vorton and crew from the Footy Show who were filming their latest skit. Our students were outstanding ambassadors for our school and while they thoroughly enjoyed the day, they did get a taste of the down side to a career in film making, as there was lots of waiting and boring bits too!

Teachers demonstrating life-long learning.

Next week on Thursday 5th March, our teachers/school will be hosting eight teaching staff from local schools (Canterbury South PS, Homebush West, Strathfield South PS and Chullora PS) to observe the process of Classroom Walkthroughs. Put very simply, on this day every teacher at our school (including me) will teach a lesson focused on the explicit teaching of Social and Emotional Learning, in particular the skill of self-awareness. The teachers and visitors will be placed in groups and while half the teachers are teaching their lesson the other teachers will ‘walk through’ their rooms for between 5-10 minutes to observe the following (and then we will swap roles):

1) The things in the environment/classroom that support self-awareness (these could be posters, tools or spaces for reflection, language of emotions or strengths on the classroom wall)

2) The tasks students are involved in. (they may cater to students’ strengths, include an element of choice, be adapted to suit students with different academic and learning needs, may include feedback and reflection)

3) The students level of participation/engagement in the lesson. (students may be making positive choices to support their learning, using their strengths to help others, seeking help, describing their learning or demonstrating positive interactions in the classroom)

Feedback from the day, which will be collated in the afternoon session of the day, will provide the school and teachers with valuable information about what’s working or what could be working better in this area, which is one of the schools’ strategic directions for the next 3 years. I look forward to sharing some of the data we gather in the next newsletter.

I look forward to seeing many families at the Goal Setting Interviews next week.

ELECTION DAY AT CPS

Saturday 28th March NSW voters will be turning their minds to weighty decisions, but which ever way they swing you can be sure they won't be disappointed by the food offerings at Canterbury Public School polling booth.

From 8am to 2pm we'll be cooking bacon & egg rolls and sausages on the BBQs and selling all the delicious cakes, biscuits, lamingtons and sweet treats you can provide.

Mark your diary, get out your cookbooks, and let us know if you can spare an hour to help on a stall (email Shelalagh@bigpond.com). Cakes can be brought to the school on Friday 27th, or on Saturday morning.

All funds raised by the P&C are used to support school programs and improve the school environment.

CAKES NEEDED

For the Cake Stall on Election Day

Saturday 28 March 2015

Our Election booth is a busy one and we need lots of baked goodies to sell.

It's our opportunity to fundraise for the school and showcase our strong parent and school partnerships to the wider community.

We rely on your generosity and creativity to make this cake stall a big success!

Stay tuned for more information.
Garden Goings On, 28 February 2015

The new year brings new opportunities for the CPS community gardens (the veggie, herb and Indigenous gardens). The garden is a collaborative venture of and for all in the school community. Led by the teacher run Environmental Education Team, coordinated by Ms Bryony Heath, Assistant Principal along with support from all the teachers with their individual classes, the garden is increasingly becoming an open classroom for science, literacy and numeracy. It also provides fresh produce for lunches in the P&C run canteen.

The student driven volunteer programs of Green Thumbs (K-3) and Know Waste (4-6) are growing in popularity with over 45 students attending the first session on 13 February. The sessions are usually coordinated on the same Friday, the third of the month. The next is Friday 6 March, 3.30 – 4.15 pm. Parents and carer involvement is sought by the teachers and your participation regularly or occasionally is warmly welcomed.

The next Green Thumbs and Know Waste day will also see the return of the well-loved and supported Grow, Make, Bake for sale and swap market. Students are regularly using school grown produce to make items for sale and are working at the market stall. Parents and carers are encouraged to bring in any home grown or homemade quality produce and if you donate then please swap your produce for something else you would like. Please leave any donations in the staff room on the morning of the market clearly labelled ‘market’. Money made from the market is returned directly to the gardens for the benefit of students.

This Saturday sees the return of the parent-led weekend garden Working Bees. The Bees bring together parents and their children to help do some of the heavy lifting and intensive work needed for teachers to run classes. John (Luke’s Dad) is coordinating this Bee on Saturday 28 February 2 pm – 5 pm. No experience necessary, all welcome.

What’s new?

1. The Environmental Education Team (EET) is established with Ms Heath, Ms Valastro, Ms Santarossa, Mr Jones and Ms Kousaris. The EET will lead the garden planning including determining plantings and crop rotations. All plantings are currently focussed on having produce ready for harvest or potting for the biennial CPS Fete, 3 May.
2. The Canterbury Men’s Shed is kindly making potting benches for the recently student paved (at the ‘Blokes & Barrows’ event last year) alcove area. The first fitting will be done on Wednesday 25 February.
3. Communication on garden matters will be through the School newsletter, on the School Facebook page, the P&C Facebook page and on the garden noticeboard. Occasional emails will be sent but only to those who have stated or restated in 2015 that they wish to receive emails.
4. The Environmental Education Team will invite parents interested in or involved with the garden to meet as and when is possible. Much of the communication will be electronically.
5. Within the veggie garden is the ‘new’ shed which has all the necessary equipment for garden work. It is locked for safety reasons so please ask Ms Heath for the code. Feel free to access any tools at any time.
6. A garden fete crew is being assembled. Contacts are: Penny (Harper & Monty’s Mum), Jenny (Lauren & Lily’s Mum) Rebecca (Daniel’s Mum, rebecca@turnstoneprojects.com), Kendall (Lucas’ Mum), and Genevieve (Liam & Joel’s Mum). Please let one of us know if you’d like to help, we very much appreciate the offers so far.

Opportunity: Working bee coordinator

Our very capable Natalie has handed over the Working Bee coordination role and to help the teachers coordinate activities we are looking for someone willing to take on the role. If you are interested further information including a walk-through of activities could be provided. You would be very much working in a team but a key contact is needed for the EET and to ensure all are in the loop. For further information contact Ms Heath (bryony.heath1@det.nsw.edu.au).

Dates for the diary in Term 1

Foord Avenue Blackspot.....FAB

Walking to school via Foord Avenue involves negotiating a tunnel under the railway. The footpath disappears and cars, bikes and walkers all squeeze into the same space on the road.

Canterbury Council have begun looking at ways to improve this dangerous situation.

If you are interested in hearing more email Zoe Jenkins (mum to Ruskin) zjenkins@iprimus.com.au.

If you don't walk this way to school, chances are you walk through the tunnel on the way to the Cooks River and Ewen Park.

Ways to help without even trying...
